(2) An order under subrule (1) may not be made in respect, of a party to the action or a witness whose presence is essential to instruct the lawyer for the party calling the witness, but the trial judge may require any such party or witness to give evidence before any other witnesses are called to give evidence on behalf of that party.

No Communication with Excluded Witnesses

ORDER OF PRESENTATION IN JURY TRIALS

 - (c) When the plaintiff's evidence is concluded, the defendant may make an opening address, unless he or she has already done so and shall then adduce evidence;
 - (d) When the defendant's evidence is concluded, the plaintiff may adduce any proper reply evidence and the defendant shall then make a closing address, followed by the closing address of the plaintiff;
 - (e) Where a defendant adduces no evidence after the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence, the plaintiff shall make a closing address, followed by the closing address of the defendant.

- (2) Where the answers given by a jury are sufficient to entitle a party to judgment on some but not all of the claims in the action, the judge may grant judgment on the claims in respect of which the answers are sufficient, and subrule (1) applies to the remaining claims.

RIGHT OF DEFENDANT TO MOVE FOR DISMISSAL

52.11 At the close of the plaintiff's case, the defendant may, without being called upon to elect whether he will call evidence, move for dismissal of the proceeding on the ground that upon the facts and the law no case has been made out. (Editor's Note: This Rule does not appear in the Ontario Rules of Civil Procedure. It was adopted from the 1976 Rules of Civil Procedure - Rule 30.08 - previously applicable in this Province.)

Doyle v. Roberts & P.E.I. Mutual, 2015 PESC 2

This was a motion for non-suit. The Defendant tendered discovery evidence before cross-examination of the plaintiff. The Court found that the defendant essentially opened his case, and therefore was precluded from bringing a motion for non-suit.

P.P. v. D.C.W. (P.E.I.), 2006 PESCAD 12

The rule does not contemplate the order in which multiple defendants present their cases. The court provided an interpretation as to the application of Rule 52.06(1) and (2).

Bryant v. Fenton (1997), 152 Nfld. & P.E.I.R. 306 (P.E.I.S.C.-T.D.), affirmed on appeal, (1998) 166 Nfld. & P.E.I.R. 109

On a motion for non-suit the court must determine whether facts have been established from which liability might be inferred and whether there is any evidence, if left un-contradicted, which would permit a reasonable trier of fact to find in plaintiff's favour.

MacDougall v. St. Peters Bay (Community) (1992), 100 Nfld. & P.E.I.R. 45 (P.E.I.S.C.-T.D.)

The motion for non-suit will be granted if there is no evidence upon which a jury properly instructed could find for the plaintiff. The judge must conclude whether a reasonable jury could find in the plaintiff's favour if it believed the evidence adduced by the plaintiff.

McKenna's Express Ltd. v. Air Canada, [1992] 1 P.E.I.R. 24 (P.E.I.S.C.-T.D.).

On a motion for non-suit it is the function of the trial judge to determine whether any facts have been established by the plaintiff from which liability may be inferred.
